- T+1 Contracts

Traditional Monthly Futures

Contracts expire on the 3rd Friday of each month, where the expiration day is the last day available for trading. If the expiration day falls on an exchange (US) holiday, then the Friday expiration date will take place on the prior business day. The traditional monthly futures follow the below listing cycle:

- Current Month
- Serial Month
- Next Quarter
- Next Quarter

Friday Futures

Contracts expire on the 1st, 2nd, 4th, and 5th Friday of each month, where the expiration day is the last day available for trading. If the expiration day falls on an exchange (US) holiday, then the Friday expiration date will take place on the prior business day. In a given month, there is a single expiration date for each listing symbol. Please see the Friday Futures Listing Logic for additional information.

Future Symbol Naming Conventions

The traditional monthly futures are denoted by adding a suffix to the standard product symbol:

Suffix	Expiration
1I	1st Friday
1J	2nd Friday
1D	3rd Friday
1K	4th Friday
1L	5th Friday

T+1 Contracts

Weekly contracts are listed daily and expire in 7 day cycles. If the expiration date would fall on an exchange (US) holiday the contract is not listed. Below is the the current listing schedule used to determine when each weekly contract is first available for trading. Note that the "5" contracts are only listed when a 5th Monday-Friday occurs in a month.

Future Symbol Naming Conventions

The traditional monthly futures are denoted by adding a suffix to the standard product symbol:

1st Occurrence of the Month	2nd Occurrence of the Month	3rd Occurrence of the Month	4th Occurrence of the Month	5th Occurrence of the Month	Expiration
1M	2M	3M	4M	5M	Monday
1T	2T	3T	4T	5T	Tuesday
1W	2W	3W	4W	5W	Wednesday
1H	2H	3H	4H	5H	Thursday
1F	2F	3F	4F	5F	Friday
